

Abbye Feeley Joins Stearns Weaver Miller as Associate Director of Zoning & Planning

MIAMI, FL – January 11, 2019 - Stearns Weaver Miller announced that Abbye Feeley* has joined the Tampa Office as Associate Director of Zoning & Planning in the Land Development, Zoning, Environmental & Governmental Affairs group.

Abbye's knowledge of zoning, planning, development, and permitting will provide the Firm with an in-house capability to conduct real estate due diligence, evaluate and resolve code enforcement matters and zoning and development issues, expedite permitting and to assess takings and property rights issues.

Abbye has over 20 years of experience in the public sector including at the Florida Department of Community Affairs and 18 years at the City of Tampa. As Planning & Development Coordinator for the City of Tampa, Abbye represented the Land Development Division on special magistrate hearings and mediations, managed the rezoning and special use application and public hearing process, managed the administration of large-scale developments and delegated duties of the Zoning Administrator. She also worked on the creation of the Bayshore Scenic Corridor. This included conducting the community participation process, drafting a Comprehensive Plan section, and leading the presentation and workshop with the Tampa City Council for the plan's adoption. Abbye's project experience ranges from lot creation and single family residential, to large scale subdivision and mixed use urban development with projects such as: Midtown Tampa, Westshore Marina District, Channelside Publix, Humane Society of Tampa Bay and Bryan Glazer Family JCC.

"We are pleased to welcome Abbye to the Firm. She brings a unique skill set and will add important experience and knowledge to the Land Development, Zoning & Environmental Group," said Managing Director Rick Schatz.

Abbye holds two M.B.A. degrees from Florida State University for Public Administration and Science in Planning. View her full bio here.
