

Give Kids A Chance Awards 28 Scholarships To Low-Income Students

MIAMI, FL — July 24, 2018 – Stearns Weaver Miller announced that Give Kids A Chance, a charitable foundation that provides college scholarships to low-income students, has awarded 28 scholarships to high school seniors across Florida for the Fall 2018 semester.

Founded in 2004 by Stearns Weaver Miller shareholder and director Brian J. McDonough, Give Kids A Chance is a donor-advised fund that provides college scholarships to children of low-income families statewide. The fund has raised over $1 million and awarded over 400 scholarships to date.

“Give Kids A Chance’s motto is ‘education is power,’” said McDonough, a real estate lawyer who represents affordable housing developers. “Our objective is to give that power to young people who aspire to further their education but don’t have the means to do so. To the many applicants who apply for our scholarships each year, we wish you much success as you continue your education and accomplish your goals.”

The charity’s main fundraising event is an annual golf tournament held in Miami Beach, attended by supporters of the program, including leaders in the affordable housing industry.
