

Alan Fein Elected Chair of Adrienne Arsht Performing Arts Center Trust Board of Directors

MIAMI, FL — October 23, 2015 — Stearns Weaver Miller Litigation Shareholder Alan Fein was named Chair of the Board of Directors of the Adrienne Arsht Center for the Performing Arts of Miami-Dade County's Performing Arts Center Trust.

"Over the last decade, the Adrienne Arsht Center has evolved into more than a performing arts facility. It has been the catalyst for a new urban spirit, transforming downtown Miami in the 21st century in the same way Lincoln Center transformed New York's Upper West Side in the 20th," said Mr. Fein.

During his two-year term as Chair, Mr. Fein will continue to advance the Arsht Center's mission of making the arts accessible to even more members of the community. He will also serve to unite local stakeholders from all disciplines to support Miami's cultural landscape, strengthen the Center's partnerships with the private and public sectors, and encourage recruitment of additional private sector support to advance the Center's nationally recognized performing arts education initiatives.

Deeply committed to supporting arts & culture in our community, Mr. Fein is a former chair of the Miami-Dade County Cultural Affairs Council, and has also served as founding chair of Miami's Arts & Business Council, City Theatre and the Colony Theatre.

Mr. Fein is a shareholder in the firm's Litigation Department and a member of the firm's board of directors. He handles complex business litigation in South Florida and the nation's leading business courts, and has established one of the region's most prominent sports law practices, representing sports franchises including the Miami Heat.

Mr. Fein's wife is the playwright, Susan Westfall. Susan is the co-founder of City Theatre and the namesake of the Susan Westfall Playwrights Stage at the Carnival Studio Theatre. Jake Fein is a recent Creative Writing graduate of the University of Delaware and a proud employee of Books & Books, Inc. Son Peter Fein is a senior at MAST Academy.
