FORMER MIAMI DADE COUNTY ATTORNEY AND JOHNSON & JOHNSON COUNSEL
JOIN LAW FIRM OF STEARNS WEAVER MILLER

Miami, FL (March 23, 2009) – The law firm of Stearns Weaver Miller announced that Murray Greenberg, the former county attorney for Miami-Dade, and Eric S. Roth, the former Vice President (Law) for Cordis Corporation (a J&J subsidiary), recently joined the firm.

Murray A. Greenberg joins the Firm as Of Counsel in the Land Use, Environment, and Government Affairs Department. Prior to joining the Firm, Mr. Greenberg served as Assistant County Attorney, First Assistant County Attorney, and County Attorney for Miami-Dade County. He currently serves as an adjunct Professor of Law at the University of Miami School of Law, Florida International University, and St. Thomas University School of Law, teaching courses in state and local government, state and local taxation and election law. Mr. Greenberg is also certified as a mediator and arbitrator. Mr. Greenberg's career has focused on all aspects of local government law and currently serves as Special Counsel to the Miami-Dade County School Board.

Eric S. Roth joins the Firm as a Shareholder in the Labor and Employment Department. Mr. Roth will also represent clients in the Firm's Pharmaceutical and Life Sciences practice area. Mr. Roth assists medical device companies with a wide variety of legal matters including commercial transactions relating to distribution, procurement and supply chain management, regulatory and corporate compliance matters, litigation strategy, and general commercial issues. Prior to joining the Firm, Mr. Roth served as Assistant General Counsel for Johnson & Johnson and as Vice President (Law) for one of J&J's subsidiaries, Cordis Corporation. Previously, he was a senior associate in the Miami office of an international law firm and served as Special Counsel to United States Senator Bob Graham.

Stearns Weaver Miller's Managing Director, Rick Schatz, said "We are thrilled to welcome Murray and Eric to the Firm. Both are especially well regarded in the legal community and they will make a great addition to the Firm."
