

Abbye Feeley Joins Stearns Weaver Miller as Associate Director of Zoning & Planning

MIAMI, FL – January 31, 2019 - Stearns Weaver Miller announced the addition of Abbye Feeley* as Associate Director of Zoning & Planning in its Tampa office. Abbye joins the Firm's statewide Land Development, Zoning, Environmental & Governmental Affairs group of more than 20 attorneys, 2 existing planners, and a Geographic Information System Director.

Abbye has over 20 years of experience in the public sector including at the Florida Department of Community Affairs and 18 years at the City of Tampa. Abbye's practice is diverse, having worked on projects ranging from lot creation and single family residential, to large-scale planned developments and mixed-use urban infill projects. Her strong public and private sector relationships and intimate understanding of local regulations afford her the ability to easily identify, evaluate, and resolve complex land use, zoning, permitting, code enforcement, and property rights matters. She routinely works with clients to strategically analyze properties and maximize opportunities for development while balancing regulation and design.

With extensive experience of the local public hearing entitlement process, municipal code writing and amendments, permitting, variances, historic preservation and alcoholic beverage licensing, Abbye possesses a necessary skill set that provides a valuable service to our clients.

"We are pleased to welcome Abbye to the Firm. As a seasoned planner, she is a strong addition to our robust Land Development, Zoning & Environmental Group," said Managing Director Rick Schatz.

Abbye holds two M.B.A. degrees from Florida State University for Public Administration and Science in Planning. View her full bio here.
