

Litigator Sharon Carlstedt Britton Joins Stearns Weaver Miller in Tampa

MIAMI, FL – April 2, 2020 – Stearns Weaver Miller announced that seasoned litigator Sharon Carlstedt Britton has joined the Firm’s Tampa office as a Shareholder.

Sharon has nearly three decades of experience litigating a variety of complex commercial matters, including contracts, healthcare, insurance, white collar and intellectual property. She has significant trial experience on behalf of well-known, national companies. Notably, she has successfully defended record labels, music publishers and artists against Internet companies in high-profile copyright infringement cases.

“We are excited to welcome Sharon to the Firm and our expanding Tampa office,” said Managing Director Rick Schatz. “Her versatile experience in complex commercial disputes fits perfectly with our Firm’s strengths and will allow for a seamless transition to our statewide Litigation team.”

Sharon adds, “I was attracted to Stearns Weaver Miller because of its unwavering, steadfast commitment to the highest-quality practice of law and service to its clients. I am looking forward to hitting the ground running.”

Sharon serves as Vice President and Board member for Tampa Bay Businesses for Culture & the Arts, an organization dedicated to supporting business and cultural growth through recognition of the role of the creative arts in societal advance. She earned her J.D., cum laude, from the Georgetown University Law Center and her B.A., magna cum laude, from The American University.

Sharon’s arrival is part of an ongoing expansion of the Firm’s Tampa footprint. Within the past year, the Firm has added Land Development and Real Estate Shareholder Elise Batsel and Attorney Kevin Reali, experienced commercial lending Shareholder Jennifer Powers, and Former Leon County Assistant County Attorney Attorney Jessica M. Icerman.
