

Stearns Weaver Miller Adds 2 Attorneys

June 7, 2016 - Stearns Weaver Miller announced the addition of two new lawyers. Kelly O'Keefe and Brandon Rosser joined, respectively, the Firm's Tallahassee and Tampa offices.

"We are pleased to welcome our two newest members to the Stearns Weaver Miller team," said Managing Director Rick Schatz. "Each brings a unique perspective to navigating legal and business challenges with experience across trusts and estates litigation, real estate, and corporate law. The addition of Kelly and Brandon brings to more than a dozen the number of new lawyers who have joined us in the past year."

Kelly O'Keefe joins the firm's Tallahassee office as a Litigation Shareholder. Kelly represents clients in probate, real estate, and other complex areas of business litigation. She has experience litigated, among other probate disputes, cases involving breach of fiduciary duty, will and trust contests, inter vivos transfers, and heir determinations. She also has extensive experience litigating complex commercial foreclosures for borrowers and lenders, and has represented developers, owners, purchasers, and management companies in a variety of real property disputes, including condominium and community association, landlord/tenant, purchase related, permitting, partnership, boundary, storm water and construction disputes.

Brandon Rosser joins the firm's Tampa office as an associate in the real estate department. He represents clients in a wide range of real estate matters including the acquisition, disposition, development, leasing and financing of commercial real estate throughout the United States. Prior to joining the firm, Brandon was an associate at an international law firm in Atlanta, Georgia.
