

Stearns Weaver Miller Formalizes Government & Administrative Law Group

TALLAHASSEE, FL – February 12, 2020 – Stearns Weaver Miller announced the formalization of a Government & Administrative legal practice area and group to expand its turnkey offerings to clients. Comprised of nearly thirty attorneys and professionals, the multi-disciplinary group facilitates statewide, cross-practice communication, collaboration, and shared resources to serve its clients in almost every aspect of Florida administrative and government law.

The group is spearheaded by Tallahassee Shareholder Gigi Rollini, whose practice focuses on Florida administrative law, litigation and appeals. Gigi serves on the Executive Council of the Administrative Law Section of The Florida Bar and on the board of the National Association of Women Lawyers, and is a past chair of The Florida Bar Appellate Court Rules Committee’s Administrative Law Practice committee and president of the Florida Association for Women Lawyers.

The group represents private businesses before Florida and federal agencies and local governments, and also represents local governments and agencies. The group routinely engages and has strong relationships with Florida’s state government agencies, as well as regional, federal, and local government offices. These relationships are critical to crafting preventative and proactive measures and solutions for clients. The Tallahassee office, strategically positioned at the crossroads of business and government, provides convenient physical access to Florida agencies, while each office across Florida is deeply engaged at a local level.

“Stearns Weaver Miller has experience in nearly every industry that is affected by Florida regulation,” said Managing Director Rick Schatz. “Formalization of this group allows us to leverage the Firm’s strong depths of relationships and diverse collective experience to help our clients navigate through Florida’s complex and unique legal and regulatory landscape.”

Able to assist clients in nearly every segment of a project from start to finish, the group has experience with administrative appeals, licensure, regulatory compliance, administrative complaints and disciplinary proceedings, government contracts, procurement and bid protests, rulemaking and rule challenges, state and local taxation, election compliance and litigation, and non-profit and trade association formation, compliance and management.
