OVERVIEW

*Non-Lawyer

Jeff Cooper serves as one of the Firm's in-house real estate analysts. In this role, Jeff helps conduct in-depth research and analysis to support tax assessment challenges.

Prior to joining the Firm, Jeff worked as an analyst at various commercial real estate investment firms managing portfolios comprised of different asset types, including industrial, multifamily, office and retail. He has experience in supervising capital projects, lease analysis/abstracting, debt analysis, underwriting, due diligence, and market research. This previous experience gives Jeff unique knowledge and insight on ways to address and resolve an assortment of ad valorem taxation issues.
